

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

Is it worth investing ?

Sports develop your kid with all qualified characteristics to live good life in the society

Your money is not for sports...

but you pay for the opportunities that sports provide for your kid

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

Sports keep your kid in the arena and stay away from mobile or other devices with monitor screens

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay so the kid will have chances to create sustainable relationships, precious memories and the prides of successes. The same ways that you have experienced

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay to let your kid realize that all successes and the championships don't come with luck. They derived from the dedication of practicing many hours, days after days, years after years

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay so your kid will have a chance to feel some small proud moments and keep on practicing for this ultimate goal

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay so your kid will learn to have self-respect. Moreover, he will learn to respect his competitors, his coaches, and all staff members

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for your kid to learn how to achieve his goal

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay so your kid will learn how to endure his disappointment when losing in the games and strong enough to go back to practice again and again

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for your kid to learn how to collaborate with others, be a good member of the team, learn how to lose gracefully and be humble when he wins

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for your kid to learn how to take good care of himself and also things such as his sport equipment.

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for your kid to learn how to be disciplined, stay focus, and dedicate himself

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for the time when your kid exhaustedly comes back from school but determine to go for practice

Why you pay so much money for your kid to play sports

You pay for the time when your kid feel so tired and really want to stop but he doesn't quit.

It is worth investing!

Investments for your kid to play sports... the consequences are much greater than the victory

Created by

